I mean the mill is entirely financed by visitors or by grants that we can acquire. At the moment we're busy painting the mill and that's costing us quite a bit of money and the Co-op grant has been very welcomed to go towards that work. I found out that Holgate Mill had just been the recipient of the funding and that was a big deal for me because I believed in Holgate Mill already and I wanted to be part of their success, make it go further because it involves the community, it involves people and involves building together for something that will be sustainable over time.
