Creating an inclusive culture

Questions for self - reflection

Think about the below and how much time you currently invest in finding out about your colleagues. Pick one or two that you will commit to doing more of..

- I engage in respectful and curious questioning to better understand diverse cultures and religions
- I seek opportunities to connect with other colleagues in my team to understand their unique backgrounds
- I take an active interest in learning about other cultures
- I create a safe environment where my colleagues can speak up
- I show empathy and ask my colleagues if they need help or support
